ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Wilson of Cascade, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swink of Myers Mills, South Gastonia, N. C. The wedding will take place in December.

MRS. SWINK WAS BLUE OVER HER HEALTH

Among the thousands of North Carolina people who have realized the fact that Tania's brings health, strength and happiness is Mrs. J. W. Swink, Myers Mills, South Gastonia, N. C. Mrs. Swink says:

"Before I took Tania I could not work half my time, and when I did work night would find me completely exhausted. I could hardly eat, enough to keep alive, and night after night I would toss and roll with an awful headache. At times I felt so discouraged and blue I could hardly stand it. If I had not been for Tania I would still be a sick woman, for nothing else ever did me a bit of good. I have taken four bottles, now, and haven't a trouble in the world. I eat anything I want, sleep good every night and don't know what a headache is any more."

Tania is sold by all good druggists.

Harvey was the scene of a pretty but quiet marriage on Saturday afternoon, at quarter past two o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Melba Wilton Harvey, became the bride of Mr. William Irving Booth of this city. The home was beautifully decorated in stately palms, cut flowers and soft lights. As Mrs. J. W. Harvey played the wedding march, Miss Elizabeth Harvey, the younger sister of the bride, entered. MRS. R. L. HANTON.

THANKLESS JOB SAYS WOMAN

By NEA Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Being an angel on earth is a hard, thankless job.

Mrs. R. L. Hanton, Fifth Avenue, social leader, who has been playing the part of a Lady Mountfort for many years, says so.

It leads to too many complications. Take the latest.

She is being charged with alienating the affections of a young wife. All because she took her family under her wing, paid its rent and clothed it.

The charge is made by Roger C. Pierrotti, fashion designer artist of Cos Cob, Conn. It is denied by both his wife and Mrs. Hanton.

Met in Hospital.

They met five years ago in a hospital. Mrs. Pierrotti was a nurse, the philanthropist a patient. They became attached to each other.

Mrs. Pierrotti told of her marriage. Her husband, she said, was violently jealous of her friends and of books she enjoyed. He would often burn her novels, she said.

Campaigns Are Closed In South

Major political parties virtually closed their campaigns in the South today, placing the outcome of appeals for endorsement of their claims and elections of their candidates next Tuesday in the hands of the voters.

While the elections next Tuesday are expected to be largely a matter of approval of nominations already made in Democratic primaries, lively contests are forecast in the gubernatorial and senatorial races in Tennessee and congressional districts in Alabama, North Carolina and Virginia.

Tennessee, the main battle ground, holds the center of interest, with Governor A. A. Taylor, Republican, opposed for re-election by Austin Peay, Democratic nominee. There the Republicans are striving to hold ground gained in 1920 when Representative Cordell Hull, now the Democratic national chairman, and other Democratic leaders were defeated. Senator M. C. Kellar, Democrat, is opposed for re-election by Newell Sanders, Republican, while Mr. Hull again is seeking to regain the seat he held in Congress for a number of terms.

Close contests are expected to be in the Tenth and Ninth Virginia Districts, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth North Carolina and Seventh Alabama District.

All indications now point to a delegation of at least twenty boys from Danville to the State Older Boys Conference at Roanoke November 16-22. The Sunday schools who have not yet appointed their delegates are expected to do so on Sunday morning. A pleasant and profitable time is in store for all delegates who attend this conference.

MANY WATCH UNLOADING OF HUGE SAFE

Several interested people paused yesterday afternoon to watch the unloading of an iron safe weighing nine tons and a half which arrived yesterday at the station and which is being placed in the Brown Jewelry Company's store in the Temple building. The heavy safe was safely removed from a derrick on Union street and was taken through the main entrance of the building on thunders, a large plate glass window in the rear of the store being removed to allow the moving of the receptacle to its resting place. Parks and Co., had the contract to unload the safe, which is described as being one of the most modern built being proof against burglars, and fires. The safe is also equipped with a bankers' steel chest giving double protection to such highly valued gains as may be placed there.

EXPOSITION AND MARDI-GRAS

This week will usher in for the people of Danville one of the year's best weeks of wholesome entertainment and refined enjoyment from the daily grind of business life.

The Moose lodge has named week of Nov. 6th, as Mardi-Grass week. There has been nothing left undone to make it the gala week of the season, and judging from the number of high class acts arranged for and the large number of local merchants who have expressed their desire to place exhibits in the exposition which is to be staged in the Municipal Hall, it can readily be seen that those who attend the Mardi-Gras will be well repaid for the time spent.

Considerable expense and no little amount of time has been spent by the Moose Lodge in securing the artists and a concert band and an excellent orchestra for the week.

Interest runs high as the time draws near for the opening and the people of Danville will find the surprise of their lives when they enter the Municipal Hall which will be a blaze of lights and a veritable paradise with decorations that contain every color of the rainbow.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion.

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illnesses and of the greatest proportion of deaths. They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors now believe that colds, tonsillitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation, instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" Write me where to send it. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Corbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

CARDUI THE WOMAN'S TONIC CARDUI

Mock Splendor of Wilhelm's Nuptials Boomed By Crowd

The Wedding Passes Off With Petty Pomp and Circumstance — Mysterious Wreath Laid on First Wife's Tomb.

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press).—The former German emperor, once at the height of his empire, and Princess Hermine, of Reuss, were married today at the house of Doorn, where the war lord hides in exile. This second venture was in strange contrast with that day in 1881 when, as crown prince, he wedded Augusta Victoria, daughter of Grand Duke Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein.

Several of the offspring of that first union were present today to seal the seal of family approval to the new alliance.

There were two ceremonies, a civil contract drawn up and signed by "Wilhelm II" and "Hermine Reuss," as they affixed their names, the second a religious ceremony conducted by the former court chaplain, Dr. Vogel, according to the Lutheran ritual.

The affair of secrecy surrounding the entire affair has been well maintained throughout. The midst of the systematic mystification adopted by the household came when the bride's sister, Princess Ida, who resembles her, successfully passed herself off as the bride at the Amsterdam station last evening with an army of castle guards, whereas Princess Hermine left the train at Rotterdam half an hour earlier, and drove to the castle unobserved, those within the place making much of this as a huge joke.

At the religious ceremony, which began with the singing of the Lutheran hymn, "Jesus Geh Voran," Pastor Vogel preached from the text, "Now abideth faith, hope and charity." The bridal couple occupied carved gilt armchairs surrounded by crowns, while the numerous guests were seated in rows behind them.

"The joyful day has arrived," declared the minister, "when His Majesty and Her Serene Highness join hands."

He recalled that the same text had served at the golden wedding of Wilhelm I, and at the bridegroom's own silver wedding. "The bride," said he, "has left fatherland and friends to unite her life with that of his majesty, whose faith has sustained him in circumstances which would have driven others to despair."

As an evidence of faith he pointed out that the "kaiser" conducted religious services on every Lord's day in his home. He paid tribute to the virtues of the late empress and Princess Hermine's former husband, referring to the "kaiserin" as the ideal of German womanhood.

Love each other, as God loves you," he admonished, "and you shall prevail over all evil report."

Then followed the reading of the marriage services, rings were exchanged, and the hymn, "No Nimm Dir Abschied, Heide," and "Herrn Meines Heiles," were rendered.

A brief official communication issued later announced the civil and religious solemnities and mentioned the number of guests. Prince Henry of Prussia, a close member of the family, spoke a few cordial words, to which there was no response, according to the German custom, and no further speeches.

"They have begun their new life," "Hochzeitslied" weather, but soon turned to shovelry and a chill rain fell when the former emperor's black car drove from the castle to the lodge at the appointed time for the civil ceremony.

A large crowd, including nearly 100 newspaper men and photographers, and many of the young folk of the community, watched the arrival of the wedding party. The bride, in a white gown, was escorted by the groom, in a dark suit, and they were followed by the bridesmaids, in white, and the groomsmen, in dark. The procession was led by the officiating minister, who was followed by the choir, in white robes. The ceremony was held in a large hall, where the guests were seated in rows. The bride and groom stood at the front of the hall, facing each other. The minister read the marriage vows, and the couple exchanged rings. The ceremony was concluded with a hymn, and the couple departed in a black car.

Movie Man To Take Scenes In This City

Scenes in and around Danville will be filmed this week to be included in a travelogue scenic picture, entitled "The American First," and which will be shown on movie screens throughout the country. This was learned this morning with the arrival here of M. Athens, a movie photographer for the International Travelogue Scenic company of Los Angeles. Mr. Athens says that any local people who have a talent for the camera and who wish to demonstrate such before his machine may pose for him, but on the other hand, he warns those who do not wish to be "caught" on the film, to wear clothes for he is going to have his camera grinding at many places and scenes when he is not expected.

When the filming is completed, the picture will be unrolled in a local theater before it is sent to be shown throughout the country.

Hungarian Woman Tries To Sell Her Child For a Goose

BUDAPEST, Nov. 5.—A woman was arrested today in the country market while trying to sell her six-month-old baby. Evidently in the deepest despair she offered the child on her arm for the price of a goose.

"Someone will pay the price in poultry for a good, healthy child," she pleaded.

A man was making an offer to the woman to relieve her of the burden, some infant when the police intervened and took the woman into custody. Her case was referred to the state charity organization, which found that extreme misery due to lack of funds was the woman's motive for trying to rid herself of her offspring.

Mrs. F. O. Kidd left this morning for Richmond to be with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Gardner, who is seriously ill at St. Luke's Hospital.

Danville Wins Close Contest From Salem

In a game that was marked at times with flashes of brilliant football on the part of both teams and again with football that was very ragged, both sides fumbling too frequently, and Danville most often the offender in this respect, Salem High School was defeated here yesterday afternoon by the local boys by the score of 7 to 6. Salem's eagerness to block the "try for goal" placement kick prevented a tie score.

Danville scored in the first thirty seconds of play of a blocked punt. On the kick-off Salem received. The visitors had evidently planned a fake play, but the man who got the ball lost his head, fumbled, a Salem man recovering. After one futile attempt at the line a punt was decided upon. Foster, for Danville, blocked this punt and Campbell recovered the ball and dashed across the goal for a touchdown.

When the "try for goal" was attempted the placement kick was partly blocked by a Salem man who was across the line before the ball was snapped. Automatically the "try for goal" counted and the score was 7 to 0.

This one point was occasion for a great deal of discussion among the spectators, most of whom did not understand how the score was made.

On the next kick-off Salem secured the ball and marched straight up the field for what appeared to be a certain touchdown. With the ball on Danville's four-yard line and four downs in which to make goal the locals held. Not an inch of that four yards did Salem make. It was a magnificent defense. Just as magnificent as Salem's offense which led the team to the shadow of the goal. The first quarter ended at the third down of this attempt for a touchdown and the teams switched goals. The fourth attempt of Salem to cross the line was just as futile as the other three and Danville took the ball and Winkler kicked out of danger.

Salem's touchdown came in the last quarter. The visitors took the ball on their own thirty yard line and opened up a marvelous forward passing game which again took them to the four yard line of Danville. The locals again stiffened their defense and secured the ball. Winkler attempted a punt on the first play and the punt, at the time the kicker fumbled the punt, the ball going about 10 yards and on hitting the ground, bounded back toward Danville's goal. A Danville man fell on the ball five yards from his own goal. Two plays later were needed to carry the ball across. The first play, a sweeping end run carried the ball to the one-yard line, the runner going out of bounds. On the next play Salem's bull-back carried the ball across.

Salem's try for goal was blocked by a Danville player. With one minute and a half to play Danville opened up a forward passing game that carried the team to the five yard line before the visitors gained the ball on an attempted drop kick which went far to the left, where a Salem man fell on the ball.

The visitors tried one play and the whistle blew. The game was over. An analysis of the game brings out that Salem's game was more finished, plays were gotten off better, there was more of the deceptive element in the plays and the forward passing game was more effective than Danville's. On the other hand Danville's straight football offense was more powerful than that of the visitors. Salem had far more chances to score than had Danville, but lacked the punch to carry the ball across. Danville's failure to make more than one touchdown was due to fumbles and to poor punting. Danville has the stronger team and probably outweighed Salem several pounds to the man. Individually the Danville players showed that they knew more football than their opponents, but as a team failed to put their knowledge into practice. Only in two departments of the game did Danville outshine Salem, first, the interference furnished by Danville was far above the average; second, the local players did some superb work in tackling.

In straight football Salem lacked the power to make consistent gains. It was only when the forward passing game was opened up by the visitors that they were able to make any headway. On the other hand Danville's most consistent gains were made on line plunges and off-tackle plays. Only in the last few minutes of play did the locals open up with forward passes making short, but consistent gains.

The number of yards gained by each team was about the same. If there was any advantage it was Salem's.

Catholic Easy For V. M. I. In the Game Saturday

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 4.—Outplaying their opponents throughout the four periods of the game here today, the Virginia Military Institute's "Flying Squadron" defeated Catholic University by the count of 61 to 0.

The visitors threatened to score only once, in the first quarter, when they managed to place the ball on the 13-yard line after registering two successive first downs by means of passes and line plays. But Parley intercepted an attempted pass and brought the Catholic rally to an abrupt end. From then the University was on the defensive.

An analysis of the game brings out that Salem's game was more finished, plays were gotten off better, there was more of the deceptive element in the plays and the forward passing game was more effective than Danville's. On the other hand Danville's straight football offense was more powerful than that of the visitors. NORTH CAROLINA STATE DEFEATS DAVIDSON TEAM

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 4.—North Carolina State defeated Davidson College 15 to 0 here today largely by following the ball and by the ability to take advantage of opportunities, which Davidson seemed to lack. Davidson made ten first downs to seven for the Wolf Pack, but looked like a chance into a score and several times managed to break up the Wolf Pack's dazzling aerial attack just at the time it became dangerous.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 4.—The Duval High School eleven of Jacksonville, Fla., which claimed the world's high school title by defeating Steel High of Dayton, last fall, was defeated here today by that team 27 to 0.

D. M. I. DROPPED BITTER CONTEST WITH R. M. A. TEAM

D. M. I.'s Tigers put up their stiffest fight of the year on today, and had it not been for bitter hard luck which momentarily visited the team, would have had the heavy end of a Saturday afternoon score. The team showed itself able to grasp opportunities on the second, and the generalship was good. Thought R. M. A.'s line considerably outweighed the Tiger defense, the thin line held firm and forced the baby jackets to look elsewhere for the laurels. The score was 21 to 13.

R. M. A. won the toss-up and chose to receive. Little ground had been gained when in the third down the Jacket back carrying the ball was tackled so heavily that he lost the ball which Holder, Tiger quarter, snatched to his arms like a brother and raced for a touchdown from the thirty-five yard line. He then added the extra point with his toe.

R. M. A. received again, and again lost the ball which Lea recovered and advanced for thirty yards. After carrying it over for a touchdown—try for goal, failed. The Baby Jackets then opened up a series of passes from freakish formations and soon placed themselves in a position to score. Their second touchdown also came in the first half, and as the result of open work. Their straight football would not go. Goals were made from both of R. M. A.'s early touch-downs. In the second half darkness was gathering fast and a well executed triple pass gave Randolph-Macon her third touchdown shortly afterwards on another Jacket drive. After intercepting a forward pass on the goal line and made the most spectacular play of the game, a run for sixty-five yards. It was too dark to see the ball and the game was called on account of darkness, but two minutes of the final period having elapsed.

For D. M. I., Biggs tore through the opposing line like a storming tornado and Hooper, Tudor and Lea made trouble from start to finish. For R. M. A., Shear and Tucker was easily the outstanding men of the game. Their gains were directly responsible for all touchdowns made by the Jackets.

GEORGIA TECH BEATS CLEMSON

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—Georgia Tech easily won from Clemson College here today, 21 to 7. After Tech's varsity players had run up 21 points by long end runs, intercepting forward passes, and hitting the Clemson line in the first period, substitutes took the South Carolinians in hand and held them to one touchdown when Harmon escaped from an encircling opposition and ran 50 yards across the goal line in the second period.

Virginia Upsets Dope and Defeats W. and L. 22 To 6

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 4.—Launching a determined offensive in the final period of the game, the University of Virginia eleven upset all the "dope" here today and defeated Washington and Lee 22 to 6 in the first gridiron contest between the two institutions in 12 years.

With a score 6 all at the end of the third period, the Orange and Blue came through in the final round with a total of 15 points on touchdowns by Maphis and Wain, substitutes for Arnold, a goal from placement and try for point by Fenwick.

The "Generals" scored their lone touchdown in the second period, when Walter fumbled the ball on Virginia's 22 yard line. On the fourth down, Maphis heaved to Thomas, who fell across the goal line. Dawson failed at his try for extra point.

Virginia's first touchdown came in less than five minutes after the game started and followed two superb 25 yard runs by Arnold.

Dry Legislation To Await Courts

Congress to Suspend All Action Pending Decision on Daugherty Ruling.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—All Prohibition legislation will be deferred until after the Supreme Court passes on the Daugherty opinion and no attempt will be made to anticipate the conclusions of the court, according to Senator Sterling (Rep., S. D.), chief among Prohibition leaders in Congress.

"I desire to see pending disputed questions tested in the courts before there is further legislation," Senator Sterling said today. "It is unlikely that any liquor legislation will be undertaken as the short session of Congress. The time will be limited and occupied by other matters."

An amendment was proposed by Mr. Sterling to the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill, extending the present three-mile jurisdictional limit of the United States to eighteen miles. This was withdrawn at the urgent request of party leaders. When the proposition again is made, Mr. Sterling said, the suggested limit will be twelve miles. The change made, he said, to have the limit conform to that provided in the customs laws.

While not expecting any immigration legislation this winter, Senator Sterling expressed the belief that eventually Congress will accept the commission plan heretofore proposed by him. This took authority over immigration matters from the Department of Labor and transferred it to an immigration commission. This body would establish a selective system for the admission of aliens.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment announced tonight that the number of "liberal" candidates endorsed by it has been increased to 750. "In addition," says the announcement, "there are some seventy-five candidates in various States and districts whom he will be behind to the utmost, although their names have not been publicly announced because of local political considerations."

Twelve additional names of candidates endorsed were made public by the association. Included in the list is Senator Swanson (Dem., Va.). In a statement given out simultaneously, Wayne R. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, assailed the wet organization for failure to file any report of campaign expenses, as required by the Federal law. This omission, he says, coupled with the public endorsement of 250 Congressmen, "should destroy the confidence of the people in the good faith and inclination to obedience to law of this wet organization."

STOCK SALESMAN IS HELD ON A GRAVE CHARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Arthur Gerson, of Chicago, a stock salesman, was held in $2,500 bail today for a hearing November 16 by United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud.

Gerson, according to postal authorities, is one of sixty stock salesmen employed by the Cragar System Incorporated, a brokerage firm, raided in September by federal agents, who alleged that the firm was using the mails to defraud. The authorities are seeking the entire Cragar sales force.

Bare Legs in Ballet
Due to Lack of Tights
And Not of Morality

BUDAPEST, Nov. 5.—The lack of tights and tenors may cause the closing of the Budapest opera which has furnished America with such singers as Paurian and Rosa Kornyi. Foreigners who have visited the opera lately have been shocked by what appeared to be an absence of public morality in the bare limbs of the ballet. That is explained by the Hungarian as one of the lamentable effects of the treaty of Trianon, which now costs 60,000 krona or the price of food for an entire family for the three months. The orchestra also has been depleted. The orchestra simple Seres, not content with a large slice of Hungarian territory, are seeking to acquire the culture of their western neighbor and are luring away the "winds and strings" with better currency. A crisis now exists due to the promised arrival of Paurian, composer of "Eohens" and "Madame Butterfly" from Italy to direct the premier of his new opera. Budapest music circles, wishing to make a good impression, pathetically are marshaling their few singers, their gapping orchestra and their worn out stage settings.

Sees Girl Wed Another;
Ends Life With Razor

WAYNESBORO, Pa., Nov. 6.—When George D. Leiter, aged 32 years and a veteran of the World War, saw his sweetheart marry another man, he sought death by slashing his throat with razor at his home in Mont Alto, Saturday.

Yesterday at noon he died in the Chambersburg Hospital, where he was rushed shortly after he had inflicted the wound.

Leiter died of the fact that Miss Barbara Brumbaugh, of Mont Alto, had refused him and given herself in marriage to Ralph Hollinger, this city. Since the wedding last month he had been morose and he finally took his life Saturday, when he was found with his throat cut.

He was not thought the wound was fatal. Mr. Leiter enlisted during the World War and served as a barber in the Three Hundred and Forty-first Guard and Fire Company. After the war he founded a barber shop at 31st Alto. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Belle Leiter, one brother, Carroll Leiter, both of Chambersburg, and a sister, Mrs. Harry Shank, of York.

SCIENTIST TELLS HOW TRAGEDY MADE MILLS GIRL REAL VICTIM

By Hereward Carrington, Ph. D., Author, Lecturer and Director, American Psychical Institute and Laboratory.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 4.—The most interesting person in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, from a psychopathological point of view, is Charlotte Mills, daughter of the murdered choir singer.

This 17-year-old girl has been called the most tragic victim of the double murder.

Scientific examination discloses startling changes. Yesterday she was a schoolgirl. Today she is a woman. Yesterday her mood and manner and tastes were of the child, her instincts child instincts. Today in thought and action and dress she is an adult. One does not even have to talk to Charlotte Mills to see these changes.

What caused this quick transition? Shock, first of all. Then grief, hotly tempered with anger. These emotions no doubt prompted her to demand the governor's help in avenging the murder of her mother. Instantly the white spotlight of publicity focused upon her.

Transition Overnight.

Observe then the transition from the schoolgirl. Overnight she is the woman of experience—the transition mirrored in the modish clothes suddenly hers; later hats, new gowns, bangles of extreme style at her ears, silks, striking hosiery.

It is all analogous to William James' description of the groups of complexes in the human mind, each holding an interest in a different thing—and suddenly one of them vividly brought forward by some psychological stimulus, by what James calls "the searchlight of consciousness thrown on that area."

That is what happened to Charlotte Mills. Sudden stimuli of death, of grief, of spectacular environment came into her life. The excitement seizes mind like water on a seed, the subconscious blossoms suddenly flowering and launching into activity.

Like a searchlight in the dark illuminating a single key of a typewriter, so certain complexes of the girl's mind would rise above the others—such as self-assertion, superiority, aggressiveness.

In the Spotlight.

She now thinks and talks and acts and even dresses in a totally different way than before. Take the superficially complex alone. It follows Freud's theory of the biological or sexual basis of a woman's desire to excel other women and be more attractive.

This impulse or desire may be subconscious, but it is there. Grief, for example, may be a sincere and honest grief, as in the case of Charlotte Mills, and yet find its outlet and its climatic result in new gowns and silks and earrings.

Charlotte's face is free from the lines of mental stress. Yet remember that she is now in the spotlight, and clothes and show and display and adornment may be simply the outward illustration of the child instincts suddenly blurred by woman instincts. Here is a girl changed into a woman by a dramatic tragedy. The reaction has been startling—but there is no hard and fast rule to measure such psychological reactions.

Daugherty Saves War Frauds Data

Big Showing for Bureau to Be Used in Plea for More Funds, Is Belief.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Attorney General Daugherty is storing up several announcements of the work of his War Frauds Bureau, such as the settlement of cases through the payment of claims to the government, to make public just before Congress convenes. In one instance the government has obtained 100 per cent of the amount due, plus interest.

The supposition is that Mr. Daugherty is paving the way for a request for additional funds to carry on the war frauds work. Congress will be needed unless the bureau shows satisfactory achievement, resulting from the use of the $500,000 already granted.

To bolster up its position before Congress the department also anticipates indictments in two cases between now and the first of next month. If all goes as expected the Grand Jury will wind up the Bosch Magneto case and one other within thirty days.

Incidentally, officials of the department for the present have dropped all ideas of getting an indictment against former Attorney General Palmer. It was indicated today that nothing has developed to show any criminal intent on the part of the former Attorney General in his handling of the alleged fraudulent transactions.

In its general trimming of estimates for 1924 the Budget Bureau will not pass on any request of the department of justice for money to continue the investigation into war frauds, probably Mr. Daugherty feels he will need more funds. It was stated today that this will be directly up to the president.

However, there is a feeling that there should be a reduction in expenditures all about the line, and that if the $500,000 obtained as an appropriation for the present fiscal year, $200,000 might be enough for 1924. The war frauds work is such that $2,000,000 might be expended in investigations, budget officials feel, and the question is to determine what is the stopping point, which is a matter of administration.

Indications are that the Department of Justice will suffer along with every other department in the slashing of the Budget Bureau. No totals have been reached for estimated expenditures except the general total of $3,193,454,971, which is the estimated income for 1924.

Agreement has been reached between the Budget Bureau and the Navy Department on a reduced expenditure, which must go to the president for approval. It was said today that the state department would be made on clothing, subsistence and general expenses, rather than upon treatment in construction work.

As against more than 1000 deaths in the United States in railroad accidents, the war frauds data due to the government is not so large.

Thrive on punishment. They cost no more than ordinary makes, though they pile up a heap of miles long after inferior makes are done. For a limited time, a Tube Free with each casing.

Gentlemen:— Referring to your inquiry as to the service I am getting from my tractor, I am glad to state that the tractor has been entirely satisfactory.

I have plowed 105 acres, harrowed 120 acres and cut wheat on 450 acres. Besides this, I have used my tractor for drilling, threshing wheat for two seasons, also cutting feed, sawing wood, hauling logs and clearing the land on my farm.

I have only spent 35c for repair parts on the tractor and am highly pleased with the work it has done. I would not consider farming without one after having used the Fordson and realize what it means to a farmer.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) ROBERT L. JONES,
